

Wednesday, October 24. : : 1894 Even some of the Reform newspapers are severe on the address of Chairman Irby.

If Grover Cleveland gives his support to Hill, and it is said that he will, he will carry New York for the Democrats.

Gov. Tillman wants to pay the United States tax on whiskey in bonded warehouses and seize the whiskey on a charge of violation of the dispensary law. The right to do so is presented to the Attorney General of the United States for his opinion. Tillman is getting grey, day enough.

The Conservative Press Must Not Express its Opinion or—As to the constitution of that convention when held, let us hope that it will consist of upright, unselfish, patriotic Carolinians. It is not an unmixed evil that Colonel Gantt is opposed to the holding of it; he may not be able to right about face in time to get into it, but if Ellerbe and Tindal and Geo.
Tillman and George Evans and D. F.
Bradley and W. D. Evans are men of sense, I feel sure that the people of the State need not fear that any injury will be done them. There are many other men, both Conservatives and Reformers, whose patriotism is as high and whose influence for good would be marked as those named above, but if the Conservative press continues to oppose the holding of the convention as badly as it now does, it will be a little chance of any Conservative participating in its deliberations. "Carolina" in Columbia Register.

So it is a man of a different opinion from the "domineering" element he must be denied the rights of a citizen.

The Constitutional Convention.
Although a large portion of the white voters in the State do not feel a great deal of interest in the candidacy of Dr. Pope or John Gary Evans in the election next month, there is one very important matter to be determined by that election which should bring every good citizen to the polls, and it is his duty to cast a ballot on it.
That is the question whether or not a constitutional convention should be held. A constitution is not made in a day. It cannot be constructed properly by the convention, especially in the present state of the public mind. The constitution of a people is a growth, and for this reason among many others we think that the wisest mode of obtaining a written constitution adaptable to the needs of our people is by amendments from time to time. Certainly parts of the present constitution are just as good as we can ever hope to have, and if any part of it needs changing why not submit such changes to the people, and let them vote on it? If the homestead law should be abolished, let it be submitted; and so with any other changes.
But the secret of the whole business is, that the State is now controlled by a ring, and this ring is trying to change the constitution so that it will ever afterwards be in power. Chairman Irby talks about his being a "Reform measure", but he never once dares to tell the people what he wants in the new constitution. He has never told what reform he proposes to make in the document.

It is time for the white people to think, and think seriously. The educational and property qualification for voting may appear very attractive to some when the argument is made that it will practically disfranchise the negro. It will no doubt prevent a great many of them from voting, but it will likewise deprive a great many of our most worthy white citizens of this high privilege of citizenship.
Many poor white men of this State, who cannot read and write, joined their more fortunate white fellow-citizens and helped to redeem the State from corruption and misrule, and it would be an injustice to take away their right to vote, without even allowing them a chance to protest against it. Yet this is called "Reform".
What has come over the spirit of such champions of the poor, down-trodden, "common people" like Governor Tillman, Senator Irby and John Gary Evans that they want to steal away the ballot from these "common people", "the one-gallus and wool hat boys"?

Yes, it will take away the right to vote from a vast majority of the negroes, but the negro has made considerable progress since the war, and it will be found that thousands of them will be entitled to vote. What a humiliation it will be to the "onegallus and wool hat" boys to be put on a level with the ignorant negro. That's what is coming, and "the one-gallus and wool hat boys" will soon find out who are his real friends when the test shall have been made.

ON THE IMMIGRATION SUBJECT.
Mr. Geo. H. McMaster, Winnsboro, S. C.: Dear Sir—Am sorry to hear that you have not been able to get up a large enough meeting to organize an auxiliary society in your county. Your people cannot have the right view of the movement or they would surely take a greater interest in it. It is the only hope we have or can have to bring into our section a class of immigrants or I should say settlers with money.
We may in the future have a chance to get a low class of foreign labor, but we will never have a chance again during our life time to get any number of good, practical farmers—men of means and men who have the knowledge and experience to assist us in making our section of the country what it should be, the finest section of the United States.
These people that we will get are not rich men, but are men who have from $1,000 to $5,000 and have experience in diversified farming—they are men who will teach us to take care of small things and not to depend on cents cotton, or spend our money scattered in every settlement in our counties will in a very short time make such a change for the better that our own people will be surprised at themselves for thinking and feeling that cotton is the only thing to plant in South Carolina—and that the first thing a farmer must do in the spring is to arrange with some merchant to carry him till crop time.
I am not a prophet, but I think I can safely predict that two years hence one company gets to work, a lien in our section will be a curiosity almost.
If you will only think the matter over you will agree with me.
There is no doubt but that we have as good soil and climate as there is in the United States; we can grow every thing excepting tropical fruits—we have as good railroad facilities as any other section, as near to market as we could wish;—that being the case what do we lack; only one thing, a change in our system of farming, and to get that change we must get among us some good, practical men who know how to farm and make money. Men who have not only the experience but have the money to show us by example what to do. Now we can get the very men we need, for the class we propose to bring here, are men who know how to farm, and can pay their own way—who will buy a farm and go to work at once, men who will show us how to make money at farming, because if they can make it we can do the same. We know that our people have the intelligence and all they need is some one to show them what to do.
Now we can get this at a very slight expense, all that it will cost our county is an interest of $500 on a loan of $10,000, and because the stock will pay good dividends you can easily make the calculation. Suppose we sell the first year 10,000 acres of land at an average of $10 per acre—it is $100,000; 10 per cent commission on the sale of the land is $10,000, an extra profit of $5,000, it will leave us a profit of $5,000 or 100 per cent which the stockholders will get in dividends.
But out of this of every man who has one hundred acres of land to sell will willingly give $5 to have an advertised and sold, will he not? Well can he find a better and cheaper way to advertise it than by taking one hundred acres of land in town or country but what will be benefited by immigration.
Your churches and schools will be easier supported because you will have more people to contribute, your taxes will be less, for the same reason and you can give your hundreds of ways by which people will be benefited, and I would defy anyone to give a single intelligent reason to show that they will not.
I have now three applications—one from a representative of Alabama men—who wish to change their locations, two others from men who wish to engage in business—all of them have money. I look for just such applications daily now as the news is spreading all over the country.
I have now a longer letter than I intended but I am anxious to have your county in our company. As I told you before, your county was only taken in (as it is read out of the Federal Register of the State) and the urgent request of one of the Committee, and I would not like to see it left out for that and then for another reason Laurens and Abbeville both have asked to be allowed to come in and have their lands sold, and only intended to have ten counties.
I hope that you will start it again and trust that in a few days I will get a much more satisfactory letter from you. Yours very truly, L. SHERIFF,
Rock Hill, S. C., October 12, 1894.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.
RIDGWAY, October 15.—Since our last, we have had the pleasure of attending the annual meeting of the Fairfield Association, which convened Friday, October 12, with the First Baptist Church, Columbia.
At the appointed hour the body was called to order by the former moderator, Dr. E. J. Quattlebaum, of your city. After the roll of churches was called and the delegates enrolled, the body was organized by the re-election of Dr. Quattlebaum moderator, Dr.
J. W. Boyd clerk and the election of W. R. Kibb treasurer. This association is composed of churches located in Kershaw, Richland and Fairfield counties. There was quite a goodly number of delegates present, and the business of the body transacted rapidly and harmoniously in the time allotted for the purpose.
Rev. H. K. Ezell, of Blythewood, having been appointed by the last association to deliver the introductory sermon at this meeting, preached quite an instructive and interesting sermon to quite a large congregation on Friday night.
The body having transacted all business before it, adjourned Saturday afternoon to meet with the Ridgway Baptist Church Friday before the second Sunday in October, 1895.
We were glad to see present our worthy and esteemed brother, Dr.
T. M. Bailey, corresponding secretary of the Baptist State Convention, who will meet with the body at Chester in December next. Also Bro. Thomas, of the Baptist Church—certainly one of the finest denominational paper South.
We would advise all who are not subscribers to the Courier by all means to subscribe to it, as they may be posted on the news connected with their denominational.
On Sunday morning we had the pleasure of listening to one of the finest sermons we have ever heard delivered by Rev. J. J. Ferris, of your city.
The church, one of, if not the largest in the city, was well filled, and the writer has the first one yet to see, who does not agree with him that it was certainly a masterly effort.

Our town is certainly considered a place of some importance. The second division of the Fairfield Union will hold its next meeting in December; the Fairfield Association will hold its next meeting here, and we understand the political campaigners (Reformers) are to meet here on the 27th inst. to discuss the various questions.
At present politics are at a low ebb here; no one seems to take any interest in such matters.
Times a little dull; plenty of cotton coming in—about 1500 bales having exchanged hands here at very low prices.

TILLMAN AND MURRAY
Eating Plums Together—Can't Wait on Tillman's Rabbit.
Mr. Editor: Looks as though the claim that a qualified right of suffrage in this State would only affect the negroes should be set aside by the following from a speech of Gov. Tillman, the recognized leader of the farmers' movement. I call attention to the fact that in this part of his speech the Governor says "we", in reference to the opinion advanced. This makes it appear that he had advised and consulted with his associates, and therefore gives the weight of mature deliberation to his expressed opinions.
Gov. Tillman said: "The whites have absolute control of the State government, and we intend at any and all hazards to retain it. The intelligent exercise of the right of suffrage, at once the highest privilege and most sacred duty of the citizen is, as yet, beyond the capacity of the vast majority of colored men. We deny, without regard to color, that all men are created equal. It is not true now, was not true when Jefferson wrote it, but we cannot deny, and it is our duty as the governing power in South Carolina to ensure to every individual, black and white, the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." This looks plain. He is discussing the question of suffrage, and says that the majority of negroes are as yet incapable of intelligently exercising the right, and in the same breath denies that the whites are created equal.
George W. Murray is one negro whose right to suffrage Gov. Tillman and Mr. Murray and Tillman climb the plum bush and feast together, while the white farmers of the State, who Tillman had in line to lead to the promised land, are struggling with the direst poverty that ever I felt in this country.
I just believe that we farmers will starve if we don't quit waiting around for Tillman to skin that financial rabbit.
Tillman and the rabbit will be out of sight, and we will be left to bark over the empty track. I am in for white man rule, based on honesty and intelligence leading. I oppose the calling of a constitutional convention in this State for the one reason: that I fear the partisan, prejudiced, hateful spirit that exists among ourselves.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE NEGRO IN THE WOOD-PILE.
Mr. Editor: My attention has been called to an article in the Columbia Register signed "Fairfield". I feel to concern as to contents of the article, but as I have been personally approached as a candidate on the strict Democratic platform, utterly opposed to Ocalaism, and asked for an expression. I will make it public: First. As to the negro voters endorsing the ticket of which I am a representative. It was news to me, and I have no more to do with it than the Reform movement had in 1890, when hundreds of negroes voted the ticket.
Second. I think it pretty abusive for an individual to write an article in the name of the whole county to it. He must have the big head pretty bad.
Third. I suggest that the author come out over his signature with the names of the "irresponsible individuals", as he terms them, who attend negro meetings in the dead hours of night, with others of trial justiceship. His quarrel is with them. I will state for the benefit of the public who may be interested in my position, that never have I tried to induce a negro to vote my way.
Truly circumstantial as later cases.
Did Gov. Tillman or "Fairfield" abuse the negroes who voted with them in 1890, or revile the many staunch Reformers who soiled their votes?
I think not. Tillman's very heart seemed to swell with gratitude. For while he even resolved to stop lynching.
Among other things the Governor said: "Many who voted cast their ballots for the regular Democratic ticket, and the consequence is that to-day there is less race prejudice and race feeling between white men and black men of South Carolina than has existed since 1863." Again he said: "His conduct in the recent political campaign shows that he has begun to think for himself and realize that his best friends and safest advisers are the white men who own the land and give him employment.
When he is clearly shown that the majority of our colored voters are no longer imbued with Republican ideas, then the vexed negro problem will be solved and the nightmare of return to negro domination will haunt no more here."
The Governor actually advises the negroes to quit the Republican ranks and go with white men who own land and give them employment.
He seemed entirely to forget the white man who owned no land and is obliged to compete with effice on the bare muscle.
I was at the time struck with the inconsistency of his position, after setting out as the special champion of the Anglo-Saxon who had nothing left but the grit and pride of our race.

CENTREVILLE.
Crops, Accidents, Church Work and Politics—Waiting on Tillman's Dietum.
CENTREVILLE, S. C., October 15.— The farmers in this section have a disadvantage, they have their bread at home and some other necessities, but they cannot pay their debts as cotton is their only dependence to raise money and the price is distressingly low—50 and 55 is about the run of our market. Camden does a little better; your correspondent said two bales in Camden last week for 5.75 when it was 7.25 in Ridgway. We cannot account for this but it is nevertheless true. We are in hope yet that our boys may be able to make both ends meet and enter the race on a cash receipt next year.
We are sorry to report that little Hudson Bagley, grandson of Mr. J. L.
Bagley, met with a painful accident on last Sunday night. He was playing with a gun, and a "Sawney" Creek Church, he attempted to climb over the partition that crossed the room and fell and knocked his arm out of place at the elbow. Dr. J. A. Glenn was called and he made a successful amputation of the affected joint. The little sufferer was doing very well at last accounts.
Mr. David Braumhan, Sr., has been very sick for the last few days but am glad to say, under the skillful treatment of our young friend and physician, Dr. Train, he is improving.
Rev. J. S. Fildner baptized thirteen candidates at Sawney's Creek Baptist Church on Sunday, October 7.
The Mennonites also had a baptizing service on that day. They seem to be progressing, but not enough to interest of their children, and we hope instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves.
